Anita, you're too busy cheesing the background colour for a poster no one will read anyway immediately to ignore. I urge everyone to get rid of you. Mussing get a new chairman. One who does more than fiddle while housing burns.

Jon,

Everyone's opinions should be respected.
It is obvious that you have certain concerns and/or beefs with others. We are far too busy to get involved in your personal issues.
I would suggest that since you are not a member of STAC that everyone remove your email address and not forward information regarding STAC to you keep safe and well

Anita

"Toronto is the most multi-cultural city in the world." ~ Anita Dressler

Why, thank you for that information, Anita. But the next time you feel like preaching platitudes, why don't you take a walk first. Toronto would be a great place to do it. What you'll find is not what you could have just read off of somebody's travel brochure, but that the culture of this city is increasingly butt-ugly and morally depraved dystopic global capitalism. Even far-away writers for organs like and including The Guardian have observed that Toronto's claim for diversity - real diversity as opposed to the gift-shop imitation of it that your corporate masters pay lip-service to and invoke every time they turn it down - is a bogus conceit for Babbitt types.

No big, Anita. People will ignore your poster, in EVERY language - and that's what your bosses want more than anything.

Toronto is the most multi-cultural city in the world. It is a necessity to translate posters etc. in the dominant languages of the building. It has been suggested previously that English and the next two dominant languages considering that it would be impossible to put up posters in every building with every language we would box our impact if the walls were covered with ten or twenty languages which is a possibility thus English and two dominant languages max.

Greetings to all

Previously I wrote the following e-mail to STAC only by which it missed all others especially Grant Coffee, Jill Ikuta, and Christine Sheppard. Therefore, I wish to resubmit this request so that it shall reach the relevant officials who can authorize the translations and the printing.

"I shall request the STAC to include Tamil Language also for the translated posters and flyers as a considerable percentage of Tamil speaking tenants are living in Senior Apartments mostly in North East Region. Speaking of the apartment, in which I am living, has about 40% of Tamil tenants.

In deciding the languages in which the posters and flyers are arranged, printed and sent to my Senior Apartment shall include English 45%, Tamil 40%, Chinese 15% and Hindi 4% and Urdu 1% (the latter three ethnic communities do not understand the English.

I shall sincerely request the relevant authorities to authorize above job asap so that the STAC members shall outreach the Tenants.

Regards
Ram Kana
STAC Member"

It is impossible to adequatey inform the design and implementation of the "Integrated Service Model" for the City of Toronto's new "Seniors Housing Unit" without detailed and specific reference to what needs to be improved in the old model.

Unfortunately it seems some of the managers implicated in the old model, perhaps understandably from a selfish perspective, wish to curtail this process – and are actively doing so, with some lamentable success, thanks to the co-operation of the Advisory Committee's minders, like and including Grant Coffey and Reema Patel – and – most lamentable of all – the collaboration of the Committee's chairman, Anita Dressler.

Specific detailed reference to existing problems that need to be solved, reflecting real experience, often with Housing (bad) management, are what will give the Senior Tenant Advisory Committee's findings substance, and make it truly informed and informative, not just an empty Stalinist exercise.

The tendence of the Committee's minders, Grant Coffey and Reema Patel, and their "minded" proxy, Anita Dressler, to merely deflect specific examples of what needs to be improved, to the currently dis-functional Client Care Centre are part of a transparent efffort to void the Committee's work of substance.

Consistent with this effort on the part of implicated management, I have been harassed where I live, by an individual pounding on my door, who did not identify himself to me, but who addressed me by my first name, demanded to "talk" to me, and ordered me to stop writing emails. I did NOT talk to this management-appointed thug, but simply closed the door.

I have to note that after months of documenting illegal activity to our underperforming Tenant Services Coordinator, Karen Phillips, mangement never bothered to send anyone over to my own or anyone else's door. They respond a lot faster when their own interests are at stake – ie. to suppress a critic.

Messrs Coffey, Patel, and Dressler should be replaced by people genuinely receptive to tenant voices, as opposed to selfishly selective – and oppressive.
